

The FCC should be very careful in reviewing the proposal to provide BPL service. Test after test has shown that BPL may cause problems with HF and other radio services. I believe that authorization of BPL should be denied until such time as the proponents prove that BPL would not cause interference to any current spectrum user.